

HARVARD UNIVERSITY
Department of Celtic Languages and Literatures

Call for Papers

The Harvard Celtic Department cordially invites students, faculty, and colleagues to present a paper or work-in-progress at our

Twenty-Third Annual Harvard Celtic Colloquium

October 10th-12th, 2003

at Harvard University, Cambridge, Massachusetts

Papers on any subject pertaining to Celtic languages, literature in the Celtic languages, and cultural, historical, or social science topics directly related to these are welcome.

If you are interested in giving a paper, please provide information as shown on the Reply Form enclosed, and a short abstract suitable for reproduction (50-100 words). Papers should be of a length suitable for a twenty-minute presentation—approximately 8 double-spaced pages of 12-point type. There will be a short discussion period after each paper.

Please note: Look for new online Reply Forms on our website: <http://www.fas.harvard.edu/~hcc>
We also encourage e-mailed replies to hcc@fas.harvard.edu
See the enclosed Reply Form for mailing or fax information.

THE VERNAM HULL LECTURE "Text-styles and Textiles in Medieval Wales"

~ delivered by ~

Dr. Marged Haycock

Department of Welsh, University of Wales, Aberystwyth.

Thursday, October 9th, at 5 p.m.

in the Library, Harvard Faculty Club,
20 Quincy Street, Cambridge, Massachusetts.

A reception will follow the lecture.

Additional information can be found on our website: <http://www.fas.harvard.edu/~hcc>

Please reply by Monday, May 19th, 2003.

Barker Center • 12 Quincy Street • Cambridge, Massachusetts 02138

TEL: 617-495-1206 • FAX: 617-495-1010 • www.fas.harvard.edu/~celtic